Part-time membership

If you work part-time whilst also contributing to the Scheme, your benefits for any periods of your Scheme Service when you worked part-time will be adjusted to take this into account.

Typically, your Scheme Service will be scaled down in line with the hours you actually worked but your Pensionable Salary will be increased to its 'full-time equivalent' see the example below. This makes it easy to add up periods of full time and part-time Scheme Service when calculating benefits. It ensures that the benefits which a member has built up are not affected if the member reduces or increases their hours. Please note, however, there is a limit of 35 years on the amount of Scheme Service that all members can accrue and this applies to your actual service and not the scaled-down calculation.

Example
An example calculation for a member who is retiring having:

- been a member of the Scheme for 30 years;
- has worked half-time hours a week for those 30 years; and
- has a part time salary of £20,000 per annum.

Step 1 - calculate adjusted Scheme Service
\text{17.5 (part-time hours)} \times 30 \text{ years} = 15 \text{ years' Scheme Service}
\]

Step 2 - calculate full time equivalent salary
\[
\frac{£20,000 \times 35 \text{ (full-time hours)}}{17.5 \text{ (part time hours)}} = £40,000

Step 3 - calculate pension
\[
\frac{1}{60} \times £40,000 \times 15 = £10,000 \text{ pension per annum}
\]

Special Terms Used

Pensionable Salary
The salary figure used to work out your pension and cash sum. It is the basic salary received by you in the last 12 months before retiring or leaving the Scheme. It does not include temporary responsibility allowance but does include London weighting.

If you earn below the 'Salary Limit' — £60,310 for the year 2019 — your Pensionable Salary is equal to your basic salary over the last 12 months.

If you earn the same or more than this limit, your Pensionable Salary is equal to your basic salary over the last 12 months, apart from any increases you have received following a promotion on or after 1 January 2013, which are recognised incrementally in your Pensionable Salary over a 10-year period.

The 'Salary Limit' will normally increase each year in line with general salary increases awarded by the Union.

Scheme Service
The length of time in complete years and months that you have been building up benefits in the Scheme. A maximum of 35 years applies to Scheme Service— if you reach this limit, you will stop accruing pension but will retain death benefits in line with the Scheme Rules.
